CONDITION OF PAYNE SERIOUS

POSTMASTER GENERAL
CRITICALLY ILL

Symptoms of Heart Trouble
Cause Grave Concern—Patient
Resting Easy at Late Hour
Last Night.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Postmaster General Payne is seriously ill at his apartment at the Hotel Arlington here. Marked symptoms of heart trouble have developed and his condition became so serious during the day as to cause grave concern.

Payne returned recently from a trip west and appeared to be feeling in much improved condition, though his health has been poor for a long time. He went to the white house to attend a meeting of the cabinet last Tuesday and that night was very restless. He was at his desk at the postoffice department during the forenoon, although feeling very badly, and did not return to the department after luncheon, remaining in his room. He became very ill last night and has been confined to his bed ever since. Dr. Magruder, who was his physician during his severe illness of some months ago, has been attending him and Dr. Rixey, surgeon general of the navy, also has been called in.

During this evening the president and Mrs. Roosevelt called at the hotel and made inquiry regarding Payne's condition. Dr. Magruder upon leaving Payne's room late at night, gave out a statement which admitted the serious nature of Payne's condition, but said that the patient was resting easier to night. His bulletin follows:

"The postmaster general has not been feeling well for several days. Recently decided symptoms of heart trouble have developed. They were very serious during the night and early part of the day. He is responding to remedies employed and is resting easier."

Francis H. Whitney, secretary to the postmaster general, remained at Payne's rooms until late this evening. Whitney made this statement:

"The postmaster general returned from his recent western trip apparently in better health than for some time past. Frequent comments were made on his improved appearance. He was at his desk at the office last Tuesday and attended the cabinet meeting that day. He was at the office again Wednesday (yesterday) forenoon, though he had passed a very restless night. His will power kept him up till late evening, since which time he has been confined to his bed."

An effort was made to obtain a more detailed statement of Payne's condition, but his physician stated there was nothing to add to the formal statement that was given out. While he was resting easier to night, it is admitted he is in a very weakened and serious condition.

At midnight Payne was sleeping quietly. Dr. Magruder was still in attendance.

DIFFERENCES ADJUSTED.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Differences between packing house teamsters and packing house firms which refused to reinstate some drivers who struck in sympathy with the butchers were adjusted to day to the satisfaction of a committee representing the teamsters' union and it was announced to night by the committee that there would be no further trouble between packers and teamsters. The men whom it was claimed had been discriminated against will not be re-employed as teamsters, but will be given work in another capacity.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 29.—Arthur D. Wyman, instructor in the chemical laboratory at Harvard, died to day from injuries sustained by being run down by an automobile. DEARTH OF NEWS

Nothing of Importance From Scene of War—Japanese
Suffer From Disease.

There continues a dearth of news from the armies in the far east. Reports from Russian sources tell of terrible ravages by disease in the Japanese quarters. The Liao river is said to have been dammed upstream of Liao Yang in order that the flooded country may protect the left flank of the Japanese army threatening Mukden. In St. Petersburg it seems to be the expectation Kurapatkin will not make a stubborn fight for possession of Mukden. Yaglovskoy has heard that Port Arthur's garrison is confident of being able to hold out three months longer. Another stroke of ill fortune has befallen the Russian navy in an accident to the cruiser Oleg, which was ordered to be ready about this time for sea with other ships of the Baltic squadron. Repairs to the Oleg will probably detain her at Cronstadt six weeks.

WAR REPORTS.

Tokio, Sept. 29.—An emergency ordinance amending the army conscription law was passed to day. It extends service of second reservists from five to ten years and abolishes distinction between first and second reserve conscripts.

At the foreign office this evening it was stated the new conscript regulations will exempt the available Japanese fighting force by about 200,000 men.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—News from Mukden says the Japanese have assumed the offensive and have captured Da pass. This is not actually confirmed, but the general staff thinks it is likely to be correct. The Russians, it is added, evacuated the pass without resistance.

Chefoo, Sept. 29.—The British steamer Yik Sang, trading in China seas, arrived here to day and reported she was stopped by a Japanese destroyer outside the harbor of Chefoo. After her papers had been examined the Yik Sang was allowed to proceed.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—A Chefoo dispatch says the Japanese warships are blockading Chefoo. These evidently are there under an agreement with China in order to prevent possibility of any ships of the Port Arthur squadron seeking refuge at Chefoo.

A FOUL MURDER.

Yankton, S. D., Sept. 29.—A foul murder came to light to day when the body of a young Mennonite girl was found fourteen miles west of Yankton. She had been missing several days and searching parties had been hunting for her. Her body was discovered near the border of lands belonging to the Bon Homme Mennonite society. Her mouth was stuffed with grass, evidently to prevent outcry. Her clothing was almost entirely stripped from her body and she had been terribly mistreated. Suspicion rests upon three tramps who were seen in the neighborhood during the day. Tracks of three men were found near the body.

HOME FOR DRUNKARD'S WIVES.

Des Moines, Sept. 29.—Twenty thousand dollars to establish a home for drunkards' wives in Iowa is one of the bequests of the late James Callanan, the eccentric philanthropist millionaire. Callanan was a strong advocate of temperance during the latter years of his life and gave freely to the cause. Provisions of the bequest are not made known, but it is supposed that a sum sufficient to at least insure success of the project will be acquired.

SENATOR HOAR PASSES AWAY

END CAME EARLY THIS (FRIDAY) MORNING

Had Been Unconscious Since
Last Tuesday—Senator's Life
Had Been Despaired of for Six Weeks.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30.—George Frisbie Hoar, United States senator from Massachusetts, died at his home in this city at 1:35 this morning (Friday). The end followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since Tuesday and the end came so gently that only attending physicians were aware of the exact moment of dissolution.

Physicians despaired of the senator's life six weeks ago, but such was the vitality exhibited by their patient that even they were surprised and the public was at times led to cherish a faith in ultimate recovery. On Sunday last, however, all hope was abandoned after the last unsuccessful attempt to administer medicine and nourishment. Brief lucid intervals were followed by longer durations of unconsciousness until Tuesday morning, when the venerable statesman sank into a state of coma from which all efforts to rouse him proved unsuccessful.

During the last hours there was not a movement of the body and only a scarcely perceptible pulse evidenced the final struggle. There were present at the bedside when death came the senator's son, George Rockwood Hoar, his daughter, Mary Hoar, and Dr. Warren R. Gillman.

The intelligence of Hoar's demise was conveyed to the people of the city by the tolling of church bells. Hoar had been in ill health since last winter, when he was troubled with lumbago. The death of his wife in Washington proved such a blow that he never recovered entirely from its effects. He came to his home here soon after the adjournment of congress, apparently recovered from the attack of lumbago. Late in May he attended the bi-centennial celebration in the town of Sutton, Worcester county, and made a speech. He left the speakers' stand as soon as his speech was finished and was driven directly to his home here.

A few weeks later Hoar spoke at a special session of court when eulogies were delivered on the life of Col. E. B. Stoddard.

The senator's last public appearance was when he made an informal afternoon address at the English high school. Up to Aug. 17 he remained in his home and much of the time stayed in bed. He grew weaker gradually and on the morning of Aug. 17 had a sinking turn caused by the weak action of his heart. Sept. 25 it was announced by his son that he was falling rapidly and he lapsed at times into unconsciousness. From that time until his death he was unable to take nourishment, but his constitution enabled him to resist death for such a length of time that even his physicians were surprised.

FOR HARMONY

Representatives of Every Wing of Democratic Party Confer With Parker.

New York, Sept. 29.—Representatives of every wing of the Democratic party have been in conference with Judge Parker the past three days in his efforts to secure harmonious work for the national ticket. The incident which has created the most favorable comment was a meeting between Senators Gorman and Rayner of Maryland, accompanied by the announcement from their close political associates that whatever differences heretofore existed between Maryland leaders have been dispensed, at least so far as the present campaign is concerned. Former Representative Ben T. Cable of Illinois, who called on the judge, is another whose coming is said to mean a unit of effort from opposing organizations of Illinois Democrats.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 29.—From Helena to Spokane, Wash., Senator Fairbanks traveled to day, crossing the northern part of Idaho enroute. In Idaho the train stopped at Sand Point and Rathdrum for speeches. Sand Point, being an important lumber point, Senator Fairbanks devoted himself largely to the duty on lumber, contending that Republican policies are necessary to proper protection of that industry.

In his speech here to night Fairbanks made an exposition of the Republican policy in the Philippines his leading topic. He also discussed the tariff and urged a continuance of Republican policies as necessary to the welfare of the people at large.

STEVENSON OPENS CAMPAIGN.

Bloomington, Sept. 29.—Former Vice President Stevenson opened the Democratic campaign in central Illinois by addressing a mass meeting here to night. His principal subject was the tariff. DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

New York, Sept. 29.—A Democratic mass meeting will be held in Madison Square garden about the middle of October, at which it is the intention to have as speakers former President Cleveland and a number of the foremost Democrats of the country. Arrangements are perfected for the reception to be given Judge Parker next Wednesday night. Three thousand invitations are to be issued.

SIGHTED RUSSIAN GUNBOAT.

Bellingham, Wash., Sept. 29.—Members of the crew of the Pacific Packing and Navigation company's tug C. C. Cherry, just arrived in port from Alaska, report sighting a Russian gunboat. The Cherry had been driven by a storm into Unimak pass. A Russian gunboat was anchored in the same pass not a half mile from the Cherry and was plainly visible to the crew of the American vessel. In the morning the Cherry continued on her way to this port, leaving the gunboat still in the pass.

THE PHELPS- GURNEY CASE

GOVERNOR OF MASSACHU-SETTS HEARD FROM

Makes Public Letters Bearing on Subject—Wants Attention of British Ambassador Called to Breach of Law.

Boston, Sept. 29.—After allowing time for a communication in the Phelps-Gurney case to reach Washington, Governor Bates to day made public various letters bearing on the subject. The governor informed the state department that the judgment against Gurney had been vacated and fine imposed remitted. He says Judge Phelps has expressed regret to the secretary by letter, a copy of which he forwarded with a statement by Phelps. The governor suggests attention of the British ambassador will take such action as the case may demand. The governor also expresses regret that want of knowledge of the law has resulted in an error of judicial authority and expresses the hope that the statement by Phelps may be recognized as a conclusive disavowal of any intention of Massachusetts courts to ignore international law.

LOWDEN WILL TAKE STUMP.

CHARLES SCHWAB

Caused Excitement on 'Frisco
Stock Market by Heavy Purchase.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—Charles M. Schwab and members of his party have departed for the north and east in a special train. Before leaving town Schwab caused a flutter of excitement on the stock market by buying nearly a million and half dollars of preferred stock of the United States Steel corporation. While the greatest possible secrecy is being maintained as to the identity of the purchaser of the big block of stock, it is gossip in local financial circles it was bought for Schwab's account.

MEDIATION EXCLUDED.

Record.

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—The largest crowd of the meeting attended the Grand circuit racing at Oakley to day. Major Delmar was entered to go against the world's trotting record of 2:02 1/2, but did not make the attempt on account of a strong wind which was blowing during the afternoon. The surprise of the day was in the 2:07 pace, in which Jett Bird, a hot favorite, was distanced after winning two heats and finishing a close second in another. Sphinx S. won the race after six heats. Summary:

WATER SUIT

May Be Solved by Annexation of Part of Kansas to Colorado.

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 29.—An effort at solution of the Kansas-Colorado water suit is in progress and if the efforts of those most interested in the case are successful a strip of the western portion of Kansas about 100 miles wide will be annexed to Colorado and the litigation now before the supreme court at Washington will be thrown out. Prominent politicians of Kansas and Colorado are making every effort to get a bill through the legislature of both states whereby the western portion of Kansas can be taken into Colorado. "It is thought by those who have given irrigation much study, will solve the difficulty and both states will be benefited to a great extent. The strip which is proposed to be annexed to Colorado is the fertile region of the state and the irrigation problem is of the greatest importance to the residents. East of Dodge City practically no water is taken from the Arkansas river for irrigation purposes and the suit against Colorado was brought for the purpose of securing a sufficient amount of water in the state extending westward from Dodge City to the Colorado line."

BATTLESHIP LAUNCHED

Another Great Fighter
For U. S.

The Connecticut, the Finest and Most Powerful Boat in the American Navy—Work of Government Shipbuilding.

New York, Sept. 29.—The battleship Connecticut, which was successfully launched in the presence of a vast assembly shortly after 11 o'clock, is a sister ship to the Louisiana, and was built in the government yard under government supervision, while the Louisiana was built by a private shipbuilding firm. The construction of both ships has been followed with keen interest, as it was recognized it was a test of the government's ability to cope with a private enterprise. Much depended on this competition in construction, for if the Connecticut is completed before the Louisiana then most of the government shipbuilding will be done by the latter.

The Connecticut will be the finest and most powerful boat in the American navy and will rank with the most powerful battleships of navies of other nations. Notwithstanding the fact that a new plant had to be erected for construction of the Connecticut, this vessel is but 8 per cent behind the Louisiana, although laid down two months later.

The Connecticut is of steel with a maximum displacement of 17,700 tons. The vessel is 464.4 feet long, 76.10 beam and 24.5 feet draught. The Connecticut is to be fitted for use as a flagship when in commission and will carry forty-two officers and 700 men. She will not exceed $12,000,000 in cost.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The navy department has accepted the cruiser Des Moines, now attached to the European squadron. This vessel is a little short of meeting complete contract requirements in the matter of speed. An order was issued to day at the navy department providing that all employees of the navy yards and stations in the United States be paid during working hours. Labor unions have long objected to having their members paid off after working hours.

NEW BATTLESHIP.

Washington, Sept. 29.—On recommendation of the general board the navy has requested the bureau of construction and repair to draw plans for a battleship which shall carry twelve heavy turret guns, and at least four of which shall be twelve inches, and a secondary battery of not more than three-inch guns. It is expected this type if found practicable will be adopted for the next battleship authorized by congress. The general board is now holding daily sessions deciding upon types of new ships.

DAUGHTERS OF KING

Asked to Direct Their Work
Against Divorce Evil.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—The fifteenth convention of the Daughters of the King in the United States was formally opened here to day. In his charge to the convention Bishop Nelson, of Georgia, asked the Daughters of the King to direct their earnest work toward remedying the divorce evil. He said in part:

"Two hundred thousand divorces a year means work for women of reverence, heart and sympathy. My greatest trust is in the character and determination of the American women, rather than legislation of American men to stem the tide rising against the sacredness of motherhood. Divorce is burning out the hopes of the beautiful American home life."

METHODIST HOME MISSIONS.

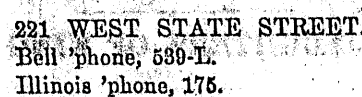

Denver, Sept. 29.—The twenty-third annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church opened here to day and its sessions will continue for a week. Mrs. Clinton B. Fiske, of New York, president of the society, made an address congratulating the members on the results of the year's work. The annual report of Mrs. George H. Thompson, of Cincinnati, treasurer, showed the financial condition of the society to be excellent. Mrs. P. C. Wilson of Chattanooga, Tenn., general secretary of literature, in her report spoke frankly on the lack of zeal that had characterized the work in many departments of the society.

CLARKE VICE PRESIDENT.

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—A circular issued to night from Missouri Pacific headquarters announces appointment of Charles S. Clarke as vice president "in charge of its general operations and affairs." Clarke succeeds Russell Harding, and was connected with the Illinois Central until fifteen years ago.

They got away in a perfect start on the second time down. John Clary and Red Wheeler were up at the first turn and seasawed for third and fourth position all the way home. Yammeter was after the pole horse, Billy Vaudeyenter, all the time, but the latter had speed enough to keep in the lead and came home a length ahead of the former. John Clary was and was right after the leader who was being pushed by Little Midget. The latter was unsteady on the back stretch, while Little Tanner was going fine, and Jo Jo overhauled Little Midget and came home in an elegant manner; but Little Tanner was too game and took the heat without a skip or break in the time of 1:15.4. Jo Jo was second and Little Midget was third.

FINE COOKING MACHINE

The XX Century Range in Operation at Sutter & Lonergan's.

According to the advertisement in the Journal, the enterprising firm of Sutter & Lonergan has placed on practical exhibition a sample of the famous cooking range, the XXth Century. The many excellent features of the range are well set forth by a representative of the house which makes the article, while biscuits are baked in an incredibly short time; coffee made almost without fuel, and all sorts of remarkable things are done right before the spectator's eyes, so there can be no doubt. To show how much fuel is saved the first joint of "pipe" next the range is made wholly of paper and is yet not consumed, indicating the small amount of fuel necessary to do the work of the range, as the heat is all retained in the machine and not permitted to escape up the chimney. Of course it is impossible to give any idea of the range within the space of a brief newspaper article, and like the far-famed monstrosity at the circus side show, must positively be seen to be appreciated. It will be on exhibition for several days yet and many will avail themselves of the opportunity to see its wonderful workings.

HERMAN'S SUCCESSFUL OPENING.

The fall millinery opening of J. Herman Thursday was a success, as it always is, and many ladies availed themselves of the opportunity to see the great display of elegant fall and winter goods. The warm weather has operated against fall trade, but Mr. Herman notices it but little. He is so well established that comment on his place of business and stock is unnecessary. His stock is simply unsurpassable by far in the way of variety, elegance, style, fashion, good taste and all combined with fair prices.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL.

NURSES' HOME.

The residence opposite Passavant hospital, rented for a home for the nurses, has been occupied and partially fitted up through the kindness of the friends of the institution. Several things more would add to the comfort of the occupants, but the management is very grateful for the donations thus far received. Generous-hearted people responded kindly to the invitation and both money and articles were given and are fully appreciated. The increased work of the hospital made it necessary to provide these accommodations for the nurses in order to supply room for the patients who desire to be treated at the main building. It will now be possible to classify the sick better than ever before, so that those who are troubled with nervous complaints can be so situated that they will not be annoyed in any way. It will be advantageous in other ways also.

The Philadelphia Evening Post, "founded by Benjamin Franklin," has an excellent article by Senator Beveridge, stating why young men should vote the Republican ticket this fall. The paper is strictly non-partisan and so to be impartial it promises another article by Grover Cleveland, telling the young men why they should vote the Democratic ticket. This fact is respectfully referred to the Democratic organ in this city and the friends of Mr. Bryan. "Indus Icarus Cleveland," "Benedict Arnold Cleveland," are some of the pet names the Courier has applied to Grover and it is peculiarly fitting that he should tell the people to vote for the man who would "make as good a president as Pyatt's Indian" and "whose nomination is a betrayal of the party to the hands of the men who have sought its downfall." Possibly the article by Grover will be copied with an humble apology for all that has been said about him and the man he nominated at St. Louis.

The Springfield Journal says: "The conviction is growing that the fixing of Illinois week of the exposition is a part of a deliberate attempt to assassinate the Illinois state fair," and it calls on the governor "to answer the exposition's request for an executive proclamation endorsing Illinois week with a stirring appeal to the patriotic people of the state to stand by their own public institution and give their personal patronage to their own state fair instead of the Missouri exposition. Also by urgent appeals to Governor Yates to follow this action by immediate closing of the Illinois building at the St. Louis show." That the management of the world's fair at St. Louis has acted in a discourteous and unwarranted manner in their treatment of the managers of the Illinois state fair no one will deny, and cities in this part of the state should refuse to lend their encouragement to the scheme of the St. Louis people. But does the Springfield Journal believe for one moment that the Illinois world's fair commission would consent to that radical measure proposed by that paper, that is to close the Illinois building? It might consent to the removal of the Illinois corn crib that is kept there as an exhibit of the only industry in the state, but it could not consent to the closing of that magnificent hotel, run by the state, which has been kept open so regularly and so satisfactorily for the benefit of the commission and their families. That would be too much for even the people of Springfield to ask. Let the Journal hammer the exposition all it pleases, but it should not seek to impose such hardships upon the toilers who compose our own commission.

Although the Democracy have long since given up all hopes of carrying this state, that fact should not deter Republican voters from taking an active interest in politics. The fable of the hare and the tortoise should ever be before our minds, and we should not fail to do our full duty. Then, too, the county ticket should have the cordial support of every loyal Republican, and, in fact, every man who has the welfare of the county at heart. Look along the whole list of candidates and you will find men well qualified to fill the places for which they are nominated and to fill them acceptably and for the good of the people. Morgan county has always profited by Republican ascendancy in any department, as has been well attested by the acts and records of the various officials who have been chosen to places of trust in the community. The county needs such men as have been named for the ticket, and if the people are wise the men of the Republican party will be elected. Nothing should fail to keep in harmony all members of the party so that a solid, unbroken front may be presented to the common opposition from this time forward. The Republican party is the party of aggressive principles; it goes forward to accomplish great things and does them. The Democratic party is one of opposition and as such is always pulling back in the harness and opposing whatever is being done. All posing while in mind and cast a ballot for the organization which is for the best welfare of the people, and that is the Republican party, in county, state and nation.

ILLINOIS.
At the meeting of the Illinois Republican club, just held at East St. Louis, the prediction was made that President Roosevelt would carry that state by 100,000, according to the Globe-Democrat. But Senator Culbertson, one of the speakers at the meeting, took care to warn the Illinois Republicans against overconfidence. "Be sure," he said, "that every Republican goes to the polls. We may be too certain. It will not do to take anything for granted. The price of success is eternal vigilance." Incidentally, too, the senator pointed out that every important act on the national statute books, from those creating the national banking system and redeeming the greenbacks in specie to the anti-trust law and the gold standard act, were placed there by the Republicans.

Illinois is a reliably Republican state and it has, in 1904, the strongest possible incentive for going Republican by a large majority. Roosevelt is particularly popular in that state, as he is all over the west. In Charles S. Denneen the Republicans have a candidate for governor who comes up to the best traditions of the party in that state. The resolutions passed by the Illinois Republican league recite that in Mr. Denneen "we have a candidate who will make good the prediction of a clean, able and constructive administration of state affairs." The candidate has the enthusiastic support of the Republicans of the state, and, as a reformer, will poll thousands of votes of Democrats and Independents. McKelvey carried Illinois by 143,000 in 1902 and 95,000 in 1900. On account of local issues Yates' plurality for governor in 1902 was more than 30,000 less than McKelvey's, but there is nothing in sight this year to keep the lead for governor below that for president. The 100,000 plurality which was predicted at the meeting of the Illinois Republican league stands a chance to be realized for both Denneen and Roosevelt, but the voters of Illinois will understand that this lead cannot be rolled up without hard and intelligent work. The entire vote of the Republicans and their allies must be brought to the polls. Illinois may not come up to the big Roosevelt majority of Pennsylvania, but it will undoubtedly score the banner lead of the western states.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Wabash Depot Plans Are Here
—Another Block Station on the Alton—Other Items.

Plans for the new Wabash freight house have again arrived in the city. It is thought that this time the working plans are here and that they will be followed by the letting of the contract for the construction of the building.

The Alton officials have decided to open another block station on the south end. The latest addition will be at the siding known as Junod, which is located between Chatham and Springfield. It has been found that with the growth of traffic it is not feasible to hold one train too long and trains which have been held at Chatham until the preceding one passed, will under the new arrangement be allowed to go on to Junod before catching the block. The semaphore post was prepared yesterday and will be sent down to day. The tower is being constructed and also goes down to day if ready. The new block stations at Kruger and Anderson which were ordered last week, have been installed but can not be thrown into service until operators are secured. These are a scarce article just now.

John T. Ramsey, general manager of the C. & P. & St. L., was inspecting the local shops yesterday.

The C. B. & Q. surveyors are still at work between the local C. & P. & St. L. shops and the junction.

D. T. Campbell, claim agent for the C. & A., was in the city Thursday.

TRIAL OF MRS. HUGHES.

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 29.—Considerable interest is manifested in Adams and Brown counties over the trial of Mrs. Lida S. Hughes, which is now in progress at Mt. Sterling. She is charged with murdering her husband, Frank H. Hughes, on Feb. 18, last, by shooting him in the head with a revolver as he lay in bed. Judge Mehan is presiding and the woman is defended by Judge Jeff Orr. The prosecution is by State's Attorney Walter I. Manny and Judge Hubbard. The state has completed the first part of its case and the defense is now under way. There are about 100 witnesses. The line of defense is the mental irresponsibility of the woman. It was shown that insanity had run in the family for several generations; that the defendant's father was very eccentric and that an aunt had committed suicide while insane.

YOUR LAST CHANCE

TO GET $100 IN GOLD

Will Be Monday, Oct. 3—Many Keys Are Missing.

If you have a key or keys, bring them in at once.

Several months ago Frank's Dry Goods Store, one of the leading stores of the city, as an advertisement procured a glass money box and several thousand keys, only one of which would open the box. The box, containing $100, was locked by a committee consisting of S. W. Nichols, C. H. Ward, W. R. Routt and C. O. Boston, and the key mixed among the entire lot of keys. Every key was given out, and on a specified advertised date through the papers people were notified to bring in the keys to be tried. Three months have elapsed and at this writing 430 keys are still missing.

Every effort has been made to induce people to bring in their keys to be tried, and unfortunately the right key has not come in.

Since the establishment of this firm here three years ago it has made an enviable name for itself for honest and upright dealing. In carrying out the provisions of this contract it has endeavored to follow this same high plane of honest dealing.

Almost constantly this matter has been brought to the attention of the patrons of the store through the columns of the leading papers, but so far the right key has not been brought in.

Foreseeing this contingency the firm when it first announced the offer, agreed in case the key was not found to equally divide and donate the money to Passavant Memorial and Our Savior's hospitals. A more worthy cause could not receive the money and this action of the firm is most highly commended by the general public. In case the key is not brought to the store on or before the date mentioned above the money will be turned over the proper hospital authorities on the day following, Oct. 4.

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over.

"Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, Miss M. Cartledge, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga."

At such a time, the grandest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the necessary changes, and is the surest and most reliable cure for woman's ills of every nature. Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Estes, of New York City, says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to you because I believe all young girls ought to know how much good your medicine will do them. I did dress-making for years before I was married, and if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I do not believe I could have stood the strain. There is no other work that is such a strain on the system. Oh, how my back used to ache from the bending over! I would feel as though I would have to scream out from the pain, and the sitting still made me so terribly tired and weak, and my head throbbed like an engine. I never could eat after work, I was so worn out. Then I was irregular, and had such frightful cramps every month they would simply double me up with pain, and I would have to give up working and lie down. But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed me into a strong, well woman. Yours very truly, Mrs. MARTHA ESTES, 513 West 125th St., N. Y. City."

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female troubles cured. Sold by druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutions. Remember every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Forfeit if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their genuineness.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Are You Out of Sorts

Many People, Not Really Sick, Are Out of Sorts—The Old-Time Energy and Spirits Are Lacking.

Something is needed to restore that animation that characterized the days before the system had been overtaxed or weakened by care, work, folly, excess or worry. Good, rich blood and strong, steady nerves are essential to perfect health and enjoyment of life. When vitality is lacking, pleasures cease and work becomes a drudge and drag. Blood is the well-spring of the nerves, the main-spring of the body. With either of them impaired, life loses much of its charm. Nothing gives animation and satisfaction so quickly as Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food. It soon brings you out of all unnatural mental or physical conditions due to either blood poverty or to nervous enfeeblement. Weigh yourself before taking it. This is the food that made the name "Chase" famous. The genuine is made only by The Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Price 50 cents a box, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial, $2.00. Book free.

Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." Sold by all leading druggists.

KUEHLER'S DRUG STORE

A PUZZLE IN EVIDENCE

(Original.)

One of the most puzzling cases of professional duty I ever had was that of Philip Gray, whom I defended on a charge of forgery. Before selecting a line of defense I visited the prisoner in his cell and asked him to tell me whatever he knew that would tend to establish his innocence. Gray was a fine looking young fellow, about twenty-five years old, and with as honest a look as I ever saw in any man's eye. Judge, therefore, of my surprise when, instead of complying with my request, he asked me whether an attorney was bound to secrecy with respect to his client's admission of guilt, and when I said that such was the obligation he declared that he had committed the forgery.

A celebrated British barrister, having been placed in a similar position, referred the case to the judges, who after deliberation told him that it was proper he should defend his client, though he should not state his own belief in his innocence. I resolved to act upon this advice myself and proceeded with the defense.

Gray seemed indifferent to the outcome; at any rate, he would give me no information to guide me in assisting him. Indeed, there was little to bring forward, for all the incentive to the crime was with the accused. The forgery was the signature of a will purporting to have been left by his uncle, Peter Martin, leaving Philip Gray all his property, a large estate. There was, however, one weak point in the evidence against the prisoner in this: That two in three experts in calligraphy testified, and without knowing each other's conclusions, that Philip Gray had not written the signature to the will. But the opinion of the two experts who were of this opinion did not count for much. They were without reputation in their calling and had out reputation in their calling and had been summoned by me. The expert who declared that the accused had committed the forgery was at the head of his profession and had been summoned by the state.

The last day of the trial was an exciting one, rather, a pathetic one. The mother of the accused was in court and the agony depicted on his face was enough to move a heart of adamant. Indeed, the evidence against my client was so strong, and I was so weakened by the knowledge of his guilt, that I quite toward the end of the trial to rely principally on the presence of the mother and her effect upon the jury. I spoke feelingly of the misfortune under which the prisoner labored, that both of the witnesses who had seen the testator sign the will were dead, drawing a picture of the delightful transition from one accused of a crime to vindication if one or both of the witnesses should come into court. I also pictured to the jury a noble life blighted by a mistake. While I was speaking the mother of the prisoner was far more visibly affected than the jury; and when I sat down she went out of the courtroom, sent for me and confessed that she, in order to secure the estate for the son, had forged the will.

Here was a new complication, but it was a relief to me. Gray, to screen his mother, had confessed the crime. He, not his mother, was my client, and I was placed in a new position by this knowledge of his innocence. I did not care to ask him if his mother's confession was the truth, for I felt quite sure that the same motive that had led him to accuse himself would lead him to deny that she was guilty. I went back into the courtroom resolved to spare no effort to save an innocent man, one who was placing himself in his mother's stead, from punishment for a crime he had not committed. But here again was a puzzle as to duty. Professionally I was bound to prove my client's innocence if possible. By putting his mother on the stand I could secure his acquittal. I knew that he would be a far greater sufferer if I adopted this course than if he were convicted in her stead. I made up my mind to do what I could for him without compromising his mother. Possibly I might save him without resorting to this expedient.

I arose to the last summing up. There was little to say in his defense without accusing his mother, so I was obliged to content myself with a continued effort to win the sympathy of the jury. But on this I was eluded by a knowledge that the woman for whom I asked their indulgence was herself guilty of the crime. As I proceeded I saw that the twelve men looking at me were convinced that I did not feel what I said. I was lumbering along hurriedly when there was a stir beyond the rail. A man pushed forward and asked to speak to the prisoner's counsel. I passed in my speech and went to the rail.

"I'm Edmund D. Corvino," he said, "one of the witnesses to the will of Peter Martin."

"Are you sure? You're supposed to be dead."

"I can prove my identity and am ready to swear that Peter Martin signed a will in my presence."

He did both, and the prisoner was not only acquitted, but came into possession of a large fortune.

The explanation? Well, the man who would have inherited the estate just for the will worked up a case of forgery against Gray. Gray's mother had once told her son that his uncle's estate should never go to the next of kin, and Gray believed that she had committed forgery for his sake. He confessed to save her, and she confessed to save him. The witness who finally set us all right had permitted himself to be supposed to be dead in order to get away from a woman who had been bounding him for blackmail. At her death he returned, fortunately, just in time.

DEATH RECORD

MORTON.

William Morton, one of the oldest and most respected colored citizens of Jacksonville, died suddenly at his home on Anna street, about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning, at the age of 62 years. He is survived by his wife and one daughter at home, and a brother in St. Louis.

The funeral will probably be held Saturday. Owing to the suddenness of the death and the fact that there was no attending physician, Coroner Reynolds summoned a jury to inquire into the cause of the death. The jury met at the home of the deceased Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Emma Morton, the daughter, testified that she was awakened about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning by the sound of her mother calling and her father groaning. She went to the room and propped her father's head up with a pillow. He was then dead. She sent for Dr. Woltman at once. Her father had gone to bed the night before about 9:30 o'clock, in his usual health, to all appearances. He had never been sick, and had never had a physician, and that he ate a hearty supper before retiring.

Levi Postley, who lives in the neighborhood, testified that the deceased was called to the Morton home early Thursday morning and arrived there about 2:40. Morton was dead when he reached him. He had heard him complain at times of having rheumatism and severe pains in the back. After hearing and considering the evidence, the jury returned as their verdict that the deceased had come to his death from rheumatism of the heart.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING

Fine Display of Beautiful and Useful Goods at the Illinois Millinery and Ladies' Novelty House.

From an early hour Wednesday morning until late in the evening a delighted throng passed into and through the elegant store room of the Illinois Millinery and Ladies' Novelty House to enjoy the grand fall opening of the establishment. Polite salesladies were in attendance and every possible courtesy was shown consistent with the large number of visitors. The elegant trimmed hats, the wonderful display of beautiful fall and winter millinery, the unusually fine stock of ladies' novelties, purses, combs, laces, braids and the thousand and one things needed by the fair sex; the fine line of furs and many other articles, all challenged the great admiration of the many visitors. The need of such a house has long been felt and until now it has not been met, but, thanks to the Illinois Millinery and Ladies' Novelty House, it is here and here to stay. Nothing cheap or shoddy is permitted in the place, but good and useful articles hold sway and are offered at prices cheaper than were ever before known here. The addition of a large line of furs is a pleasing matter, while a large stock of Christmas goods has already been purchased and will be placed on sale the first of December.

The amusement attractions that will be provided for the Pike are the finest that have ever been presented in this city. They are of high class, first quality, absolute wholesomeness and from every point of view superb. The Mundy shows alone represent a cash capital of over $500,000. There are in the wild animal show alone more than $85,000 represented in the aggregation of lions, leopards, panthers, hyenas, pumas, jaguars, etc. The massive fronts of the different shows that constitute the Mundy organization could not be duplicated for less than $100,000, of which the gorgeous structures of heavily carved rare wood that serves as a front to the animal show cost $40,000 to make during the past few months.

LA VISH EQUIPMENT. It, like all of the others, is a perfect mass of pure gold leaf, silver paint, French mirrors and oil paintings of various scenes and subjects appropriate to the respective shows, and thousands of incandescent lamps will be in full blast at the opening hour Monday night, and the scene will be of indescribable beauty. PIKE LIKE FAIRYLAND. Stretching away for a distance of several hundred feet, the "Pike" will be lined with the different shows in all their gorgeous raiment and spell-binding charm. THE GREAT MUNDY SHOWS. The great Mundy shows as an aggregation, consists of eighteen distinct amusement attractions, embracing in their total more than one hundred separate features. A complete list of the shows includes the following: Mundy's performing wild animal show. The Royal Hippodrome. "Lotta." "Creation." The Girl from Up There. The Foolish House. The Belgian Glass Blowers. The Venetian Gondoliers. The Ferris Wheel. The Girl of Fire. "Port Arthur." Cave of the Winds. Electrical Palace. The $30,000 Steeplechase. The Great Train Robbery. The Statue that Turns to Life. "Hereafter."

LAFAYETTE PAVEMENT.

Considerable progress is being made on the West Lafayette asphalt pavement. Blocks are being laid in the vicinity of Frank's store and concrete has been laid to a considerable distance east of Prairie street. The rainy weather has delayed the work, but with favorable conditions the work will be pushed.

EAGLES' PIKE TO BE BIG EVENT

GALA WEEK IS ASSURED

Great Mundy Shows Coming—Fall Festival Begins October 10.

Advance preparations for the Eagles' Fall Festival and Pike are progressing at a rapid rate and long before the arrival in this city of the great Mundy shows, which are to supply the amusement attractions for the event, every detail will have been rounded off to perfection. The Eagles' Pike is going to prove a decided novelty in the way of amusement for the public. It will be held under the auspices of the local series of Eagles, No. 509, and thousands of members of the order within a radius of seventy-five miles of Jacksonville are working hard for the success of the event.

BIG CROWDS COMING.

Railroad rates of one fare for the round trip have been secured for the week, covering the surrounding country for a distance of seventy-five miles, and several large excursions are being arranged for, and all lines of travel are making ready to carry record-breaking crowds while the festival lasts. The Pike will open Monday night, Oct. 10, at 7 o'clock and the fun that commences then will continue unbroken afternoon and evening to and including the Saturday following.

FREE ACTS GALORE.

Diavolo will loop the well named "death trap loop" twice each day. Marvello will negotiate his world's record high dive of 100 feet from the topmost rung of his towering ladders, alighting in a tank containing less than five feet of water.

Nicolas Chepalov will "leap the fiery chasm" on a bicycle, passing in his awful flight in midair through sixty feet of fire and flames.

Mill Lafrance will perform her fearful slide for life on thread-like wire, which will be fastened at an angle stretching for 300 feet from the top of a 100-foot pole to the ground.

SHOWS WILL BE CLEAN.

The amusement attractions that will be provided for the Pike are the finest that have ever been presented in this city. They are of high class, first quality, absolute wholesomeness and from every point of view superb. The Mundy shows alone represent a cash capital of over $500,000. There are in the wild animal show alone more than $85,000 represented in the aggregation of lions, leopards, panthers, hyenas, pumas, jaguars, etc. The massive fronts of the different shows that constitute the Mundy organization could not be duplicated for less than $100,000, of which the gorgeous structures of heavily carved rare wood that serves as a front to the animal show cost $40,000 to make during the past few months.

LA VISH EQUIPMENT.

It, like all of the others, is a perfect mass of pure gold leaf, silver paint, French mirrors and oil paintings of various scenes and subjects appropriate to the respective shows, and thousands of incandescent lamps will be in full blast at the opening hour Monday night, and the scene will be of indescribable beauty. PIKE LIKE FAIRYLAND. Stretching away for a distance of several hundred feet, the "Pike" will be lined with the different shows in all their gorgeous raiment and spell-binding charm. THE GREAT MUNDY SHOWS. The great Mundy shows as an aggregation, consists of eighteen distinct amusement attractions, embracing in their total more than one hundred separate features. A complete list of the shows includes the following: Mundy's performing wild animal show. The Royal Hippodrome. "Lotta." "Creation." The Girl from Up There. The Foolish House. The Belgian Glass Blowers. The Venetian Gondoliers. The Ferris Wheel. The Girl of Fire. "Port Arthur." Cave of the Winds. Electrical Palace. The $30,000 Steeplechase. The Great Train Robbery. The Statue that Turns to Life. "Hereafter."

"MORALITY" THE MOTTO. It will be noticed that among all these attractions there is absolutely nothing of the oriental dancing girl calibre; no human freaks, who eat 'em alive; no snake shows; no wild men or women, and nothing of the monstrosity type in any shape, manner or form.

The Mundy shows to day occupy the prominence which they have attained purely, simply and only because they have "made good" with the better class of people wherever they have held forth.

COLONEL MUNDY.

Col. P. J. Mundy, the sole owner and general manager of the organization bearing his name, is a man of different personality than is usually found in the carnival show world. He is a member of the Masonic order; is a low authored Elk; a full planted Eagle, an Odd Fellow, and a member of as many other orders of equal import. He is a man with high ideals as regards the wholesome tone of attractions presented in his shows and his one everlasting business motto, "Morality," means all that that word implies.

The local committees are working hard and everything at present points to that one word, "Success," for this coming event, the week of Oct. 10, WHO WILL BE QUEEN OF THE COMING FALL FESTIVAL?

The Eagles who will hold the Fall Festival here during the week of Oct. 10, have decided to hold a queen's voting contest. Ballot boxes will be placed in different business houses, where one can vote for their favorite. The most popular lady in the city will be crowned as queen of the festival. Votes are one cent each and the lady receiving the most votes will receive a handsome diamond ring and will be crowned queen. She will also lead the grand parade, which is being arranged for Thursday evening of that week. The contest will start this afternoon and will close Wednesday night, Oct. 12. This contest will be left entirely in the hands of the city and surrounding territory to decide who shall reign supreme during Jacksonville's festival week. A complete list of the voting places will be published; also the standing of the different candidates each day.

MEN'S SOCIAL UNION

Greetings Extended to Pastor of First Baptist Church at Delightful Gathering Held Thursday Evening.

The regular meeting of the Men's Social union of the First Baptist church was held in the church parlors Thursday evening. This being the first meeting of the union since the summer vacation, the occasion was made a home greeting and reception to the pastor, Rev. T. H. Marsh, who during the summer spent three months in Europe.

Departing from the customary methods, the league invited as its guests the members of the church and congregation and a large number were present. The early part of the evening was spent in a social manner and later an interesting program of greetings was given from the various organizations of the church, a representative from each responding and extending the good wishes of its membership to the pastor. The following made responses: Young People's Union—Miss Carrie Spires.

The Junior B. Y. P. U.—Miss Laura White.

Ladies' Sewing society—Miss Williamson.

State Missionary society—Mrs. Dunavan.

Foreign Missionary society—Mrs. I. C. Coleman.

Home Missionary society—Mrs. J. P. Brown.

Ministers' Home Benevolence—Mrs. Hooking.

Young Ladies' Aid society—Miss Maud Nesmith.

The Mission Sunday school—W. H. Barrett.

The Sunday school—Frank H. Thomas.

Primary department—Miss Mabel Hayden.

Men's league—T. W. Beadle.

On the program were two vocal numbers by Miss Bertha Anderson, whose selections are always heard with pleasure, and her accompaniments were played by Miss Ruth Widenham. Her numbers were: "If I but Knew," by Wilson Smith; and "Sing Me to Sleep," by Edwin Greene.

Following these messages of greeting a response was made by the pastor, Rev. T. H. Marsh, who spoke most entertainingly and interestingly of the various experiences with which he met while on his European tour. He spoke of many very laughable occurrences; also of the more serious experiences which come to every traveler in a foreign land. His reference and description of the various points of historic interest were heard with pleasure and his talk was withal a most profitable one.

At the close of the program light refreshments were served.

George Wiswell and son, Earl, of Waverly, were in the city yesterday.
